Description

The Google TV Streamer (4K) delivers your favorite entertainment quickly, easily, and personalized to you. HDMI 2.1 cable required (sold separately). See movies and TV shows from all your services right from your home screen; and find new things to watch with tailored recommendations for everyone in your home based on their interests and viewing habits. Watch live TV and access over 800 free channels from Pluto TV, Tubi, and more; if you find an interesting show or movie on your TV, mobile app, or Google search, you can easily add it to your watchlist, so it’s ready when you are. Up to 4K HDR with Dolby Vision delivers captivating, true-to-life detail; and you can connect speakers that support Dolby Atmos for more immersive 3D sound. The Google TV Streamer (4K) has a 22% faster processor and twice the memory of the previous generation for smooth navigation and quick switching between apps; with 32 GB of storage, you can install more of your favorite apps. With the redesigned remote, use your voice to find shows, get answers, and control smart home devices; the customizable button lets you open your favorite app or the home panel in one click; and easily find your lost remote by making it ring. It’s even easier to control your smart home with the new home panel; dim the lights or check a camera’s live view without pausing your shows. Effortlessly cast content from multiple compatible Android and iOS apps on your phone, tablet, or laptop right to your Google TV Streamer (4K).
