Description

Powerful, with 5 speeds and pulse control Premium design with bold colourway Compact and easy to store Easy to clean For home bakers and bread makers, the stylish Russell Hobbs Desire Matte Charcoal Hand Mixer gives your batter and dough a professional lift with a hands-on feel. With 5 speed settings and pulse control driving the chrome-plated beaters and dough hooks, your Victoria sponge will be fit for a queen and your pizza bases the envy of the street. Mixing and beating even the most stubborn of ingredients is effortless with this powerful 185W hand mixer (350W peak power*). In eye-catching deep red, its sleek design is more than just for show, with the in-built bowl and heel rest ensuring you catch drips while adding to the mix. And, once you're done licking the beaters, you can pop all of the removable parts in the dishwasher or sink for ease of cleaning Powerful, with 5 speeds and pulse control Take control with the 5 easy-reach speed settings and manual pulse function, which allows you to create perfect results every time. With 185W of power (350W peak power*) at your fingertips, whether you want an egg mix beaten quickly or a gently mixed sponge batter, you can do it your way, effortlessly. Premium design with bold colourway With its statement design in bold red and grey, it's not just a high performer, it looks great too. Compact and easy to store With quick-release attachments and heel rest, the Desire Red Hand Mixer is easy to store in small spaces, or tuck away on the worktop until next time. Easy to clean Beating and mixing can be a messy job, but with easy-release stainless steel attachments, all you need to do is drop them into the dishwasher or sink, letting you get on with enjoying the homemade goodies you've just prepared.
